To whom it may concern

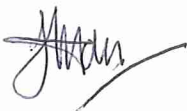

Knutton Consulting have undertaken numerous projects for both Group Five Housing and Goldstein Housing for well over 15 years.

The relationship between ourselves and Knutton Consulting has been of such a nature that we have contacted them several times to assist on schemes where the appointed Professional team required specialised assistance. Over the years they have also done residential and commercial projects as the principal Engineers for both the civil and structural scope of the works.

We have always found Knutton Consulting to be helpful and their quality of work to be of the highest professional standards; very often looking at things from a different perspective to provide a better more cost effective solution where possible. They have a good rapport with our site staff and are very capable when it comes to communicating solutions to our site staff.

We look forward working with Knutton Consulting for many years to come.

Yours faithfully,

Kevin Strydom
